

TheatreWorks

SILICON VALLEY

Arts Engagement Manager

“...an incubator of scores of artists, developing and premiering countless new works, many of which have gone on to long life elsewhere.”

- San Francisco Chronicle

Organization

TheatreWorks Silicon Valley (TheatreWorks) is one of the Bay Area’s flagship non-profit theaters and leading regional theatres in the nation. In 2019, the company was honored by the American Theatre Wing with the Regional Theatre Tony Award. Its mission is to celebrate the human spirit through innovative productions, new works, and arts engagement programs inspired by and engaging its diverse Silicon Valley community. TheatreWorks produces a mix of new works, regional premieres of contemporary hits, and reinvigorated classics, in the 600-seat Mountain View Center for the Performing Arts and the 425-seat Lucie Stern Theatre in Palo Alto, LORT B & C theatres, respectively.

With the point of view that the San Francisco Bay Area is the prototype of a diverse, ever-evolving America, TheatreWorks is committed to exploring the changing world and enhancing the American theatre with new vision, revealing who we are and what we might become. We seek to create community by welcoming the mosaic of cultures, perspectives and people that embody the Bay Area and beyond. We celebrate the transformative power of theatre to ignite imagination, inspire conversation, and interconnect our human spirits.

TheatreWorks has been committed to the creation of new works for the stage since its founding in 1970, having produced over 70 World Premieres and more than 170 Regional Premieres. In 2000, this commitment was strengthened and formalized with the establishment of its New Works Initiative, which has contributed to the development of scores of new plays and musicals earning national recognition and acclaim for the company and the new works program. Highlights of the program include the annual New Works Festival, the annual Writers Retreat, a commissioning program, and formative readings and workshops throughout the year. Writers currently under commission include Min Kahng, The Kilbanes, Lynn Rosen, Pia Wilson, Chris Miller, Nathan Tysen, Idris Goodwin, Mansa Ra, and Geetha Reddy. TheatreWorks believes in supporting local and national writers in the earliest stage of a play’s development.

The Arts Engagement program leads TheatreWorks’ commitment to engage its diverse community through Arts Education, Community Partnerships, and Inclusive Collaboration. Through accessible workshops, residencies, internships, civic salons, student matinees, touring productions, and other events, the program seeks to build intentional relationships with Silicon Valley neighbors. The Children’s Healing Project exemplifies the Arts Engagement program, in which TheatreWorks teaching artists lead improvisation-based workshops with patients at the Lucile Packard Children’s Hospital at Stanford University, patients at the Comprehensive Eating Disorders Unit at El Camino Hospital, and families at the Ronald McDonald House.

TheatreWorks has asserted its commitment to becoming an anti-racist organization and is pursuing the intention to use its voice and art form to take a stand against conscious and unconscious bias and systemic racism. Updates and action steps toward inclusion, diversity, equity, accessibility, and anti-racism are published on its website and include the creation of an IDEA collective, ongoing facilitated training at the board and staff levels, and the creation of the new department of Arts Engagement. Along with creating educational programs and increasing the accessibility of our programming, this department will focus on fostering long-term, trust-based, and reciprocal relationships with BIPOC and under-represented communities throughout the Silicon Valley.

TheatreWorks

SILICON VALLEY

TheatreWorks Silicon Valley is governed by a 25-member Board of Trustees, led by Board Chair Holly Ward. Tim Bond has served as Artistic Director since 2020, following the 50-year tenure of Founding Artistic Director Robert Kelley. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 2019, TheatreWorks Silicon Valley reported revenue of $9.6 million, with approximately $4.7 million from contributions and grants and $4.6 million from program services. Due to the COVID-19 shutdowns, the fiscal year ending June 30, 2021, had total revenues of $6.7 million, with approximately $6.5 million from contributions, grants, and endowment income. For FY23, TheatreWorks' budget is $10 million, with approximately $5 million from contributed revenue sources. TheatreWorks has a consistent record of balancing its budget. TheatreWorks' endowment stands at approximately $5 million.

Community

Situated on the traditional territory and unceded homeland of the Ramaytush Ohlone peoples, TheatreWorks is headquartered in Silicon Valley, which includes the cities of San José (the third-largest city in California), Sunnyvale, Santa Clara, Redwood City, Mountain View, Palo Alto, Menlo Park, and Cupertino. Silicon Valley's location around the southern shores of San Francisco Bay provides easy access to the global hub of San Francisco, with Yosemite, Lake Tahoe, and Napa Valley within driving distance. TheatreWorks serves the nine-county San Francisco Bay Area, which is home to approximately 7.8 million residents.

A nexus of arts and innovation, Silicon Valley is the home to many first-rate universities, including Stanford University, and dozens of major technology, software, and internet companies. Apple, Google, Meta (formerly Facebook), and Visa are among the major brands headquartered in the region.

TheatreWorks Silicon Valley is a leader among the region's arts and culture organizations, joining major Bay Area theatres American Conservatory Theater and Berkeley Rep, along with nearly 400 Bay Area theatre companies, making the region the nation's third-largest theatre center. Silicon Valley is the home to numerous cultural organizations such as The Tech Museum, San Jose Opera, City Lights Theatre, Stanford Live, Cantor Arts Center, Symphony Silicon Valley,, San Jose Museum of Art, Movimiento de Arte y Cultura Latino Americana (MACLA), EPACENTER, San Jose Stage Company, Children's Musical Theatre of San Jose, San Jose Youth Symphony, San Jose Museum of Quilts and Textiles, Children's Discovery Museum of San Jose, Less than an hour drive from Silicon Valley, San Francisco houses San Francisco Ballet, San Francisco Symphony, SF Jazz, San Francisco Opera, Club Fugazi, SFMOMA, the Asian American Art Museum, the Museum of the African Diaspora, and many others.

With its Northern California weather, Silicon Valley has a Mediterranean climate of warm summers and cool winters and offers proximity to beaches and countless ways to enjoy the outdoors. Visitors can find stunning views on endless miles of trails or spend an afternoon strolling through the historic Elisabeth F. Gamble Garden, which is free and open to the public every day of the year. Children can enjoy the Palo Alto Junior Museum and Zoo.

Sources: visitcalifornia.com; census.gov; siliconvalleyguide.org; cityofpaloalto.org; theatreworks.org

TheatreWorks

SILICON VALLEY

Position Summary

The Manager, Arts Engagement will lead TheatreWorks' commitment to engage our diverse community through arts education programs in alignment with the Arts Engagement departmental core values –

- ABUNDANCE: We operate from a place of yes.
- COLLABORATION: We are centered around learning and knowledge sharing.
- INVESTMENT: We invest in the voices of our community.
- AGENCY: We are empowered and intentional.

The Manager, Arts Engagement will lead programs for students (of all ages) and educators that explore innovative ways of learning. TheatreWorks' believes in utilizing theater as a resource to activate students beyond the stage. We aim to invest in the voices of students by encouraging critical analysis, agency, and encourage direct participation in art making. Our programming currently includes paid internships, workshops, school tours, and school matinees. All our programming is filtered through the lens of equity, diversity, inclusion, and justice.

Reporting to the Director of Arts Engagement this position will be dedicated to curating programs that are fun, participatory, innovative, and multigenerational.

Key Responsibilities

- Strategizing arts engagement goals in relationship to organizational goals
 - Contributing to development of arts engagement budget
 - Providing ongoing status reports toward meeting strategic objectives and recommend mid-course corrections as necessary
 - Developing surveys, assessment tools, feedback loops and data reporting
 - Assuring all our programming is accessible
- Developing and overseeing a comprehensive paid internship / mentorship program
- Developing and overseeing our Workshops in Community series, including bilingual programming
- Managing our in-person Student Matinee programs and expanding our digital presence as a resource to schools and communities
- Maintaining vital relationships and partnerships i.e., schools and districts, Colleges and Universities, cultural institutions, and arts education institutions
- Managing Outsource Hires including
 - Teaching Artists
 - Curriculum Developers
- Assist Director of Arts Engagement in expanding TheatreWorks outreach, including attending events, conferences, and community meetings
- Work closely and collaboratively with Director of Arts Engagement to develop a portfolio of engagements and activities that provide a deeper connection between the community and TheatreWorks i.e., panels, podcasts, workshops, etc.

Qualifications

TheatreWorks

SILICON VALLEY

- A background in Arts Education, Curriculum Development, Accessibility, Theatre and/or Performing Arts.
- Have experience in managing and balancing budgets.
- Have experience in community building.
- Understand technology and social media as tools for teaching.
- Possess a respect for students from all backgrounds and ages.
- Value process and collaboration.
- Have excellent communication skills.
- Demonstrate ability to manage a team, and coordinate events.
- Be familiar with the CA Arts Standards and Common Core State Standards.
- Have a keen understanding and training in Equity, Diversity, Inclusion, and social justice.
- Bilingual, English/Spanish

Compensation and Benefits

Salary is $64,800/year and include some of the following benefits: employer-paid health insurance; a 403(b) retirement plan; paid vacation; holidays; personal and sick days; season tickets to TheatreWorks; friends and family discounts; and a creative, energetic environment. TheatreWorks is an equal opportunity employer committed to a diverse workforce.

Applications and Inquiries

Please send a resume and cover letter, outlining how your skills and experience meet the qualifications of the position and stating how you heard about this opportunity, addressed to Alejandra Cisneros at acisneros@theatreworks.org

TheatreWorks Silicon Valley strives to be an inclusive work environment and embraces a diversity of people, ideas, talents, and experiences. We highly encourage people of color, individuals with disabilities, and other historically underrepresented groups to apply.